Points that will influence the way I will practice:

Heart healthy is prostate healthy, no charred foods.

Emphasize good dietary habits in all patients especially those with prostate cancer.

I will pay closer attention to patients in --- diuretics and PSA levels.

Stay thin and run.

Increased dietary awareness.

Emphasize diet-life style ways in patients.

RALP (Robotic Assisted Laparoscopic Prostatectomy) is becoming the standard of care with improving results.

Keep operating.

Obesity bad for cancer.

Don't try RP via NOTES.

Techniques of node dissection during RALRP.

This is important info so this seems to be a popular area of inquiry among patients.

Will help me make dietary lifestyle recommendations for my patients.

Will discuss dietary/weight interventions with patients.

Good update on dietary advice that patients frequently ask for.

Impact of prostate cancer treatment on urinary symptoms.

Robotic ARP feasible in men 70 yrs with regard to perioperative complications.

LUTS is better improved by Ri as opposed to radiation.

Consider effect of treatment on LUTS.

(Cancer prevention)Emphasize good nutrition, weight loss and exercise to prevent prostate cancer.

No PLND if PSA \leq 10 and gleason \leq 6.

My dietary advice (and supplements) will change!

Calculate BMI.

Diet/exercise very important.

Enforce diet and exercise and weight loss in prostate cancer patients.

Points that will influence the way I will practice: (Continued)

I will talk up least healthy lifestyle.

I learned about the evolution of radical prostatectomy.

Good.

Very good.

Great job. Both well prepared and very knowledgeable.

Superb.

Good points.

Good.

Knowledgeable.

Excellent.

Well done, stimulating questions.

Excellent. Good comments.

Comments about speakers/course content:

Good.

Very good.

State of the Art and Dr. Moyad's lecture a bit redundant.

Excellent speaker-would like copy of slides.

Excellent context.

Excellent discussion.

Superb!

Very good.

Good.

Leah Nakamura is a great presenter with honest data.

Many studies try to prove or disprove but end up being inconclusive.

When some of the speakers began to speak, time stood still for them.

Good topic-Dr. Aronson covered the topic concisely-good speaker. Another really good talk.

Very good.

Well covered subjects.

Good course and content.

Good.

Knowledgeable.

Comments about speakers/course content: (Continued)

Nakamura did very well with honest data. Very great study design.

Amazing stuff-great presentations.

Excellent.

Recommended topics for future meetings:

Followup on natural --- prostatectomy.

More of the same.

There was a little too much emphasis on dietary factors in prostate cancer-I realize its relatively new but Dr. Moyad's talk, Dr. Aronson's talk, several presentations in less than 24 period was overkill.

More Nakamura.

More of the same.

Surveys on surveillance need to be reported i.e., do nothing.

Followup of clinical NOTES RP!
